PHILADELPHIA, Apr 15, 2014 (BUSINESS WIRE) -- Recently, Nolan Auerbach & White Partner Joseph E. B."Jeb" White appeared on an hour-long radio show for National Public Radio (NPR) affiliate WITF, in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. The "Smart Talk" radio program focused on "Whistleblower Laws," and Mr. White was joined on the program by Penn State Law Professor Katherine Pearson. The program was recorded on March 17, 2014, and ran several times in the ensuing days. A recording of the show is available HERE.

"Smart Talk" is a daily, live, interactive program featuring conversations with newsmakers and experts in a variety of fields and exploring a wide range of issues and ideas, including the economy, politics, health care, culture, and the environment. The daily listening audience regularly exceeds half a million listeners.

Mr. White is one of the country's leading qui tam advocates, having represented whistleblowers before the United States Congress and in qui tam actions across the country. As a trusted authority of the law, Mr. White has penned amicus curiae briefs in four United States Supreme Court cases, examining the federal False Claims Act, and he has lectured over one hundred times on the subjects of False Claims Act litigation and health care fraud schemes. Mr. White is the former President and current Board member of Taxpayers Against Fraud (TAF), a nonprofit public interest organization dedicated to combating fraud against the federal government.
